John P. Short on Way From New Orleans Home to New York City.

John P. Short of New Orleans, who is MEMORIAL UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH, the interest of the good roads movement, passed through Washington today. He is so far ahead of his schedule, which calls his arrival in the latter city May 15. that he intends to stop in Baltimore to The young walker, for he will not be twenty until April, reports no undue hardships so far, although, of course, long-distance pedestrianism is a rather strenuous sport.

"Perhaps my worst obstacle was poor roads, but I think this was more than made up for by the invariable hospitality shown me by the residents of the country through which I passed, particularly the rural districts. You can say for me that southern hospitality deserves all the good things that have been said of it. I stopped at the Y. M. C. IN MONOPOLY BILL

ALLEGES INJUSTICE TO AMERICAN INVESTORS

Reference Made to Standard Oil Company's Interests Imperiled by Pending Legislation.

BERLIN, March 28.-Formal action was begun today by the United States government against the petroleum monopoly bill, recently introduced in the German imperial parliament. The first step taken was a written memorandum presented by James W. Gerard, United States ambassador, to Gottlieb von Jagow, the German foreign minister. This memorandum expressed the confident expectation of the nited States government that certain injustices toward American investors con tained in the monopoly bill in its present form will disappear before enactment. The United States, it points out, has no wish either to intervene against Germany's establishment of an oil monopoly nor to interfere with any price arrangenent between the Standard Oil Company and the German government should such be under consideration. It expects, however, that American citizens who have invested capital in German enterprises, for instance, the Standard Oil Company's German subsidiary concern—will be fully and fairly compensated for all investments canceled by the measure.

Receives No Reply.

The German foreign minister did not reply today to the American memorandum and he may be relieved from doing so by the death of the bill.

The parliamentary correspondent of the Neue Gesellschaftliche Korrespondenz voices the opinion widely held among members of the imperial parliament and in financial circles that the monopoly in financial circles that the monopoly bill in its present form is dead or has at least been shelved for a long time. He adds: "The socialist members made it a condition of their assent that they should receive political concessions in regard to the organization of employes. The clerical party is strongly opposed to the bill, and so are the anti-monopolistic elements among the radicals and liberals."

Debate of Bill Postponed.

The committee in charge of the bill was o have resumed its discussions this week, but postponed the debate until April 28 and a further postponement is Fresh diplomatic action concerning Fresh diplomatic action concerning the petroleum question is expected in the case of the Pure Oil Company of Hamburg, which was refused permission to compete for government contracts. There is also the case of the discriminatory railroad rates granted in favor of German-controlled oil imported from Galicia.

TO INSPECT MONOPOLY BILL.

Ambassador Gerard Will Look After American Oil Interests in Germany. Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, has been nstructed by the State Department to examine carefully the German oil monopoly bill, now under consideration by the reichstag. If it appears that the bill would work injustice to the Standard Oil Company, or other American oil interests, he has been directed to make representations to that effect to the German government. the German government.

Secretary Bryan, it is learned, consulted with the President before sending instructions to Ambassador Gerard. Officials of the administration have not been inclined to take any action in this matter, taking it for granted that Germany would impose no conditions upon American interests that it did not impose upon those of other countries.

Some time ago he dedicated the site for the pavilion.

Senor Senillosa bore a letter from Dr. Angel Gallardo, president of the commission arranging for the exhibit, stating that the display would be complete, and will include educational, agricultural industrial mining forestry exhibit. tural, industrial, mining, forestry activi-ties and those of the various departties and those of the ments of the government. Construction of the building probably will begin in two weeks.

WILL DRAFT SECTION. Senate Subcommittee to Tackle Holding Company Question.

Trust legislation was again considered vesterday by the Senate committee on interstate commerce, and it was announced later that regulation of holding companies was the only feature upon which agreement had not been reached. Senators Robinson of Arkansas and Cummins of Iowa were named as a subcommittee to draft a section of the proposed autitrust bill relating to this phase of big business.

Practical agreement has been reached on the form of the single anti-trust meas-ure in the Senate, and on the main pro-visions of sections to create an interstate trade commission and to prohibit inter-locking directorates of competing con-said, that the completed bill will be ready for submission to the Senate for two weeks, but the plan is to have the bill weeks, but the plan is to have the bill ready for consideration soon after the Panama repeal bill is disposed of in the Senate.

J. A. Wallace Drops Dead.

NEW YORK, March 28.-John A. Wallace, president of the Independent Telephone Company, dropped dead yesterday in a downtown office building. Death was due to heart failure. Mr. Wallac was seventy-five years old and for was seventy-nive years old and for fifteen years had been engaged in a fight to establish an independent telephone company in New York city in opposition to the Bell system. Before coming to New York he was a real estate broker in St. Louis, and reputed to be worth $300,000. All this amount and much more, it is said, he spent in the telephone hattle. telephone battle.

OBJECTS TO CLAUSE SAYS FREE SERVICE LESSENS REVENUE

> Louis D. Brandeis Gives Reasons Against Increasing Railway Freight Rates.

> Louis D. Brandels, counsel for the in tion to the proposed 5 per cent increasin railroad freight rates, today submit ted a statement showing that free serv ices rendered shippers by railroads in classification territory result in serious epletion of the revenues of the roads. The special free services under consider ation by the commission were free stor age, free warehousing, free loading and unloading of cars, free lighterage, free elevation of grain and various other free > terminal services. Mr. Brandels asserted that the cost to the railroads of these free services was so great as to absorb from 25 to 50 per cent of the freight rates receipts and in certain instances more than the entire eceipts were absorbed, resulting in substantial cash loss to the road.

Examples Cited.

Mr. Brandels states that in Philadel phia shippers "who choose to patronize certain warehouses designated by the Pennsylvania railroad have their freigh unloaded from the cars, stored four days

This free service cost the Pennsylvania at Philadelphia. through three of the four subsidized warehouse companies, $282.261 in the year ended June 30, 1913." He pointed out that unless the freight passed through these warehouses the road made no allowance to the shipper for loading, unloading or warehousing.

"Besides the discrimination between shippers there is furthermore a discrimination between warehousemen." Mr. Brandeis asserted. "The provision on the part of the railroad appears to be strikingly improvident," he said. "from whatever point of view it may be regarded. Why should the Pennsylvania railroad throw away money in paying for that service which other warehousemen would perform without pay from the railroad because of the storage charges paid by the consignee?"

Mr. Brandeis instanced a shipment of twenty cars from Ivorydale, Ohio, to Buffalo, on which 35 per cent of the total

Mr. Brandels instanced a shipment of twenty cars from Ivorydale, Ohio, to Buffalo, on which 35 per cent of the total revenue was for free services.

Instances were cited showing that the Pennsylvania railroad carried freight on which the free service cost was so great that the service "might as well have been presented as an instance of free transportation, because the cost exceeded the total freight charge received." One of these instances was in the handling of grain from Buffalo to Philadelphia.

service cost to the Erie railroad at New vestigated, amounted to "at least $24; ar"—a out $435,672.
Instances also were given of free servces at Baltimore, one in particular, of "The depletion of revenues by carriers through free unloading, storage and similar terminal services is even more marked on certain shipment, large in volume, to New York city," said Mr. Brandels. He instances a shipment of twenty-five carloads of flour from Buffalo by the West Shore road in which nearly 85 per cent of the gross revenues were consumed in terninal charges.

Mr. Brandels urged that a discontinuation of such services to certain shippers, or a reasonable charge for them, would vastly increase the revenues of the roads.
